Camp Overview

The New England Chinese Youth Summer Camp (NECYSC) started in 1987. NECYSC is a non-profit organization whose goal is to bring together youth interested in Chinese culture and foster a sense of community. We are looking for dedicated, responsible, and passionate Counselors-In-Training to lead campers in daily activities. CITs interact extensively, cooperatively, and creatively with each other, with counselors, and with other camp staff to hone their leading and communication skills.

Counselor-In-Training Job Description

As a Counselor-In-Training, you will:

- Lead a group in either the Day or Overnight program with a Counselor and co-CIT. Day staff works with campers of ages 6-10 and overnight staff works with campers ages 10-14. Along with a Counselor and co-CIT, you will lead a group of around twenty campers through activities and classes during the day and build a sense of community within the group. Day campers leave at 5:30pm and Overnight campers attend camp-wide activities during the night.
- Develop a community within your residential hall group. You will get to know your hall group with icebreakers and hold nightly hall group meetings.
- Help organize and coordinate activities. You'll work with Counselors and other CITs to plan for and execute evening activities, Counselor Time for your group, and other camp activities.
- Improve your leadership skills. During camp, you'll have to think on your feet, take charge of tough situations, and work with other staff members. As a role model to both campers and other staff, you'll have several opportunities to improve your leadership skills. You'll also have nightly meetings with your group staff and have a chance to give and receive feedback.

Other

Acceptance is contingent on a CORI/SORI check. CITs must stay on campus all week.

High school applicants are eligible to apply for both the CIT position and the ExplorAsian program, but may only attend one.
